Dear BradyCops.org,

This Office does not maintain a list of police officers within the jurisdiction who would be commonly classified as “Brady Cops” or “Giglio Cops.” Instead, if this Office becomes aware of any law enforcement officer within this jurisdiction (or any other jurisdiction, for that matter) who has a history of misconduct that would call into question their veracity, this Office refuses to work with them or use them or the information and evidence they collect to further the mission of the prosecution. There is no need to keep a list of persons this Office has concluded it must refuse to work with because there is only one prosecutor in the entire county (that’s me), and I remember, and the LEO’s I have refused to work with are (fairly quickly after the question of veracity comes up) no longer employed in law enforcement.
